Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14,15,16,18,19,20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Inou, et al. (US 2002/0093601A1).

Inoue, et al discloses MIM elements (paragraph 0005) for liquid crystal display devices(paragraph 0002). The MIM device is nonlinear and includes a transparent substrate, a conductive layer, an insulation layer formed by anodization, and a second conductive layer (paragraph 0053), with the insulation film which may be tantalum oxide, and the tantalum may be tantalum alloy(paragraph 0053). The MIM device is connected to signal line(paragraph 0031) and to the pixel electrodes(paragraph 0031), which is interpreted to satisfy the limitation that the device contacts an addressing line and an electro-optic effect contact, as the signal line is an addressing line(data lines, paragraph 0062) and the pixel contact is an electro-optic effect contact. Inoue et al teach liquid crystal cells, of which Fig. 1 shows just one, which is implied in the Figure that there are a plurality of cells. The lines are tantalum or tantalum alloy(paragraph 0066).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 2891

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Inoue et al as applied to claim 14 and further in view of applicant's admitted prior art. Inoue et al is silent with respect to a dual MIM.

Applicant's admitted prior art on page 2, lines 18-24, it is stated that "it is well known in the art to use two MIM devices in "anti-series" fashion. The two MIM devices are typically referred to as a "dual-MIM" device".

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the device taught by Inoue et al according to the well-known device in applicant's admitted prior art in order to overcome the disadvantages of the prior art which the well-known dual MIM overcame.
